ANNOUNCEMENTS.

For Judge of the Court of Appeals.
We are authorized to announce Hon. RICHARD REID as a candidate for Judge of the Court of Appeals to succeed Judge Thos. F. Hargis in the First Appellate district of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce that Judge ROBERT REID, of Estill county, is a candidate for Judge of the Court of Appeals, in the First Appellate District of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

BUTLER is discouraged by the manifestations of hostility to his Presidential ambitions at the South.

The ablest physicians of Europe now believe that the cholera scourge will be confined to Egypt alone.

The striking telegraph operators have acknowledged their defeat, and their surrender is unconditional.

The Republicans in Ohio are preparing for a vigorous and aggressive campaign to begin as soon as the harvest is over.

SENATOR BEN HARRISON blushes like a maiden of sweet sixteen at the suggestion that he may be nominated for the Presidency.

The Ohio R-republican Association at Washington will send 248 department clerks and other Government employees home to vote.

SENATOR BUTLER, of South Carolina, thinks if 250,000 negroes could leave that State it would be a benefit to themselves and to the people remaining behind.

THOS. HAMILTON, of Beaufort, one of the prominent negro politicians in South Carolina, has written a letter roundly denouncing the Republican party. His grievance is that the colored men do not get all the offices he thinks them entitled to.

A FRANKFORT despatch says it will be three months before anything certain is known about the vote on the Constitutional Convention question. The returns are in wretched condition, some of them without any mark or reference as to their meaning or the district from whence they came.

A DESPATCH from Grayson says the real reasons why Neal's case was continued, are as follows:

First—Judge Brown had determined beforehand to call upon Governor Blackburn for troops should he find Neal's presence at Grayson necessary. This would have caused another tax upon the people of the State, and they had already begun to raise a lively discussion because of former heavy expenditures of a like nature. This Judge Brown is quite anxious to avoid in the future.

Second—The extreme probability that Neal's co-partner, Ellis Craft, will be hanged early this fall by law, and a general opinion that Neal will then tell the whole story connected with the horrible crimes. There is a desire on the part of the officials and people of Eastern Kentucky to have more light thrown upon the crime than the simple confession of George Ellis and the attendant corroborative testimony, and this can only be done by Neal's confession. Craft will never make one.

The following is from the Courier-Journal:

There is a fight about an old sword, reaching from St. Paul, Minn., to New Orleans. When Aleck McClung, the noted Kentucky soldier and duelist, died, he left his sword, which he had used all through the Mexican war, to his nephew, William McClung, formerly of Maysville, Ky., and for some time a resident of St. Paul. McClung's sister, the late Mrs. Brown, took charge of the weapon, which is a valuable one, with a jeweled hilt, and, at her death, her daughter, Mrs. Coleman, of New Orleans, took possession of it and holds it with a firm grip. Her uncle repeatedly sought to get the sword, but the lady could not be persuaded or bribed to give it up. She loves it and clings to it with the devotion of a true relic-worshiper. She refused fifty times to let McClung have it, and finally McClung, despairing of ever beholding the notable brand, in the flesh, by the ordinary methods, has brought an action against his niece for the recovery of the weapon, and says he will spend his last nickel before he will give up the fight. Mrs. Coleman is just as determined, and will cheerfully run the gauntlet of all the courts under heaven to keep the article. The fight is an interesting one all around.

For and About Women.

The second fair held by the women's Silk Culture Association will take place in Philadelphia next May.

A jury in London forbade a woman the administration of her own affairs because of the peculiar hair-formation of her head, which they believed was an indication of insanity.

Dress makers are now employing padding just below the waist line in every dress. This does away with the necessity of a bustle, and most ladies find it more comfortable as well as more convenient.

The mother of Gov. Pin, a midget, on exhibition in a Denver museum, endeavored to drown the little fellow. While crossing a ditch, while her mind was affected by trouble with proprietors of the show, she dropped the dwarf into the water, which was too deep for the Governor, who weighs five pounds.

Silk patch-work quilts, made in every variety of color, shape of patch and style of decoration, contrive to employ the idle time of not a few ladies. Pieces of embossed, shaded and gros-grain silk, with velvet and satin, of every possible shape, are joined together with gold and other colored silk in elaborate feather-stitch and form a large square, which is edged with a deep bordering of plush and lined throughout with quilted satin of bright color.

Mrs. Ann Bron, a niece of Benedict Arnold, and now a decrepit old woman of between eighty and ninety, is living in Lock Haven, Pa., in a part of the town known as "The Devil's Half Acre." She has a romantic history. Her paternal grandfather was a French nobleman who was given the city of Florence or his coat-of-arms; her father, Major De Haas, was a daring soldier of the Revolution, and he was otherwise widely connected with distinguished people in both Europe and America. She is now an object of charity, and is described as a peaceful, gossiping old woman, with much pride in her ancestry.

Patti and Voorhees.
Washington Capital.

We were told that Patti's voice was not perfect until she had her tonsils removed. In view of these facts it occurred to me that a couple of feet of telegraph wire and a strong battery properly used in the cavernous recesses of Dan Voorhees, might develop a twenty-horse power voice and enable him to carry the entire State of Indiana for the Democratic party in the next campaign.
